WANT ADS BRING BIG RESULTS

IRRIGATION DISTRICT FOR DAVIS-WEBER COUNTIES

Twelve Reasons Presented Why a District Should Be Formed and the Lands Made the Basis of a Bond Issue of Over $3,000,000—What Can Be Accomplished.

A booklet issued jointly by the commercial clubs of Farmington, Kayville and Clearfield and the Weber club of Ogden deals with the matter of irrigation in this state and urges the formation of an irrigation district for Davis and Weber counties in order that the property owners may take advantage of the district irrigation laws and put water on their lands.

The publication is filled with interesting information and can be obtained on application to any of the above organizations.

The promoting of this big irrigation scheme, which calls for an expenditure of over $3,000,000, is drawing attention to this region, as it promises the reclamation of 30,000 or more acres of bench land.

Twelve reasons are set forth why the farmers and land owners of Weber and Davis counties should labor for the success of the undertaking, and they are as follows:

1st. It is for the greatest benefit not only for the people of Davis and Weber counties, but to the state at large.

2nd. The increased acreage of tillable lands will furnish homes for many of our young people, making it unnecessary for those born within our state and who would prefer to remain among their relatives and friends, to seek homes in distant parts of the country.

3rd. The reclamation of these now arid lands means to you personally a large increase in your wealth, and its attendant comforts.

4th. You are not asked to part with a portion of your land holdings in order that others may reap the benefits but you retain your acres, selling what you may not require under the new conditions, at prices greatly to your advantage.

5th. The lands which today you are dry farming and from which you may receive an annual gross return of $10 per acre, will, when supplied with water, if you continue the growing of cereals, pay you $50 per acre.

6th. For the past few years the rain fall has been above normal, thereby facilitating dry farming. We are due for a cycle of years when the rain fall will be below normal, that will result in greatly reduced, if not a complete loss of crops, on the dry farms. Dry farming should not be seriously considered where it is possible to secure a water supply at reasonable cost.

7th. The lands you today cannot cultivate for want of water, and even those with but a partial supply, on which you are producing a part of a crop of grain or lucern, can be made to pay $100 to $300 per acre in crops of fruits or vegetables for the canning factories.

8th. The growing of fruit is most profitable under proper conditions and care. There need be no fear that raising in Utah will be overdone. No finer quality of fruits can be produced anywhere. Prices in the east are excessively high for choice western varieties, and with the aid of the fruit growers' association, you can dispose of your product at most profitable prices, having an advantage over the fruit growers in Oregon, California and Washington by reason of closer markets.

9th. Utah cannot produce vegetables and fruit any the very best to be found in the market. The supply is wholly inadequate. More fruit means more factories, and a greatly increased market by reason of the better introduction of the goods. Asparagus, peas and tomatoes will always have a good demand with the canners and give satisfactory returns on the crops.

10th. It is safe to say that today the gross annual returns from the 30,000 acres of arid lands in these counties will not be to exceed one hundred thousand dollars. These same lands when watered, can be made to produce five million dollars annually.

11th. Thirty thousand acres of land now arid, have a probable present value of one million dollars, the addition of a full water supply and the cultivation of these same lands will in the near future increase their value to at least fifteen million dollars.

12th. The great success that has attended the growing of fruits in Brigham City and North Ogden can be duplicated on the benches of Davis and Weber counties when water is available. Brigham City and North Ogden orchards are today commanding prices ranging per acre from $1,000 to $1,500 and upwards.

avenue, face smashed against car seat; Mrs. Service, both legs badly bruised; Mrs. Eva S. McAllister, 421 Fifth avenue, body severely bruised, right hip wrenched; Robert Willis, an aged man, thrown through a window glass out of the car, landing on the ground upon his head, fracturing his left arm below the elbow. Ben McPhie, well-known bag-pipe player, badly bruised; Mrs. Ben McPhie, knee cap broken, both legs cut very seriously with broken glass; Baby McPhie, 2-year-old daughter of Ben McPhie, struck over right side of head by iron bar of window, sustaining probable fracture of the skull, which it is feared, may prove fatal.

The officers of the canyon line, when shown the foregoing list of injured, said none of the visitors was other than slightly injured and there were no broken legs. Not one of the passengers was injured to the extent of preventing participation in the day's festivities and sports at the Hermitage. The excursionists were on their way to the Hermitage when the accident occurred.

PRESIDENT'S PLANS FOR OGDEN

CAUSE A CHANGE IN THE ITINERARY OF TOUR.

Personnel of the Party to Make the Journey—Sunday, Sept. 26, Will Be Spent in Ogden.

The personnel of President Taft's traveling party in the trip west in September has been completed. John Hayes Hammond, Captain Archibald W. Butt, military aide; Wendell W. Mischler, assistant secretary; Dr. G. J. Richardson of Washington, D. C.; James Sloan, Jr., and L. C. Wheeler of the secret service, and Major Arthur Brooks, the president's confidential messenger, who just now is fighting with the red army of invasion about Boston, will accompany the president. Six newspaper men will make the entire trip. The party will travel in two private cars.

A dispatch from Beverly, Mass., under today's date, says it practically was decided today to include Ogden, Utah, in the list of stopping places. This change will necessitate a curtailment of the stay in Salt Lake City, and was arranged in accordance with a request from the Utah committee. The president will reach Salt Lake City late in the afternoon of Friday, September 24. On the way to Salt Lake it had been arranged that there should be a stop of one hour or more at Provo, Utah. The president is due in Butte Monday morning, September 27, and the stay in Ogden will be on the Sunday preceding.

HE RETURNS AFTER BEING DECLARED LEGALLY DEAD

Neosho, Mo., Aug. 19.—W. H. Wright, formerly a well-to-do merchant of Neosho, who disappeared from the hospital at Neosho, Mo., where he was a patient nearly eight years ago, and who since has been legally declared dead, has voluntarily returned to that institution.

Wright today was seen by former Neosho friends, who visited the hospital and identified him. Wright had, he says, wandered over the middle west for years. He appears to be in good health.

After disappearing Wright's wife died, and only a few months ago he was legally declared dead, and his estate was given over by the court to his daughter, Miss Marguerite Wright, who is now in Seattle, Wash.

SLAYER OF SEYMOUR CLARK

MAN IN OMAHA JAIL CONFESSES TO THE OFFICERS.

Sheriff Wilson Will Leave for Omaha to Investigate—Prisoner Willing to Come to Ogden.

Ogden, Neb., Aug. 18.—The local police have in custody a man giving the name of Charles Olsen, arrested on a minor charge, who confessed tonight to having killed Deputy Sheriff Clark, twelve miles from Ogden, Utah, last October.

Olsen says he and another man were robbing a railroad box car and were interrupted by Deputy Clark and an assistant, who drove up in a wagon. A revolver fight resulted in which Olsen says one of the men in the wagon fell seriously wounded.

Then the robbers went to Ogden, where next day they learned Clark had been killed.

The confession was brought about, the police say, by a threat by Olsen, in which he said: "I have killed one policeman and hope I may live to kill another."

Replying to a telegraphic inquiry from Sheriff Barlow Wilson this morning, the chief of police of Omaha wired a confirmation of the Associated Press story of Olsen's confession of the murder of Seymour L. Clark on the night of the 27th of November last. The chief of police states that the confession is comparatively complete in details and implicates others in the crime. Sheriff Wilson is now on the trail of these alleged accomplices and expects to leave in the near future to bring Olsen back to Ogden.

The prisoner has advised the Omaha chief of police that he is willing to return here without requisition papers and it is more than likely Olsen will be in the Weber County jail by Sunday night or Monday morning.

Deputy Sheriff Murphy, who was wounded at Utah at the time, said this morning that he believes he can identify the man who shot him by his voice.

On the night of the killing, Deputy Sheriff Seymour Clark and Deputy Sheriff Murphy had been called to Utah, eight miles east of Ogden, on the Union Pacific railroad, to care for an Italian, who was thought to be dying. They had placed the sick man in their vehicle and started upon the home trip, when they saw two men standing near the railroad tracks. The suspicions of the officers were aroused by the actions of the men, and Deputy Sheriff Clark got out of the vehicle and started toward them. One of the men then opened fire with a revolver, and the deputy was shot dead. In addition, Deputy Sheriff Murphy was shot through the right hand and the sick Italian received a bullet in the shoulder.

As soon as possible after the killing, a big posse took the trail of the murderer, but he escaped. Later several arrests were made, but the right man escaped the dragnet.

ROBBER SHOT ON LINCOLN AVENUE

HAD ENTERED THE ROOM OF J. H. SMITH.

While in the Act of Attempting to Escape, Thug is Wounded By Well-Directed Shot.

Steven McCarthy, 35 years old, was shot in the thigh by J. H. Smith, proprietor of the Cottage rooming house, 2518 Lincoln avenue, as he was making his way from the rooming house, after attempting to rob the proprietor, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. He was hurried to the emergency hospital at the police station, where Dr. W. J. Browning, city physician, attended him. The bullet, which lodged in his thigh, has not been located. The wound is not considered dangerous, and no bad results are anticipated unless blood poisoning sets in.

Awakened by his wife, who said she had heard a peculiar noise in the house, Mr. Smith got up and stepped into the parlor adjoining their bed room, just in time to see McCarthy stealthily walking through the doorway into the main hall. Smith called to the man to halt and he said, saying that he wished to get a room.

McCarthy handed the proprietor some money for the room. Mr. Smith, although suspicious of the nocturnal visitor, left the man in the hall, and went back to his bed room to get some change. When he went to look for his money he discovered that his shoes and trousers had been taken from the chair upon which he had placed them before retiring.

Mr. Smith hurried back to the hall, and this time he found McCarthy about to leave the place with the shoes and trousers in his possession. The man seemed much disturbed when Mr. Smith returned and dropped the articles which he was attempting to steal. The men clinched each other and a scuffle followed.

While this was going on, Mrs. Smith had arisen and had gone to the telephone and called for assistance. While she was talking to the police at the station she happened to glance at the window and saw two men crawling over a fence on the north side of the rooming house.

After a fierce scuffle, McCarthy succeeded in breaking away from Smith. Rushing out of the front door of the rooming house, he stepped on to a seat near the fence. As he was about to vault over the fence, the proprietor of the place, who had secured his revolver, fired. The bullet struck McCarthy in the left thigh.

Detective Wardlaw and Patrolman Vance appeared on the scene just as the shot was fired, and McCarthy was placed under arrest without further difficulty.

None of the occupants of the Cottage rooming house has reported anything missing, but William George, who rooms in the Allen block, next door, reported to the police this morning that his coat and trousers containing a few dollars, had been stolen last night. Mr. George said the report of the revolver awakened him, but he was too sleepy to pay much attention to it, and did not miss his clothes until he arose to dress this morning.

He thinks McCarthy or an accomplice robbed his room, shortly before the attempt was made to rob the Cottage rooming house.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES, INJURING THIRTY

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Ten persons were injured seriously and twenty others had narrow escapes tonight when 250 feet of the Twelfth street bridge over the river and viaduct collapsed. It was thought at first that several had been killed, but workmen digging in the ruins late tonight had not found any bodies.

The accident occurred just after a street car had run part way across the Many escaped by clinging to side timbers. Several of the injured were found with legs and arms broken and internal injuries.

The bridge was weakened by construction work.

PERSCH PROMISES TO MAKE STATEMENT

New York, Aug. 18.—According to information given out at the district attorney's office tonight, Donald L. Persch, the young note broker held under $50,000 bail, charged with the larceny of copper stocks belonging to F. Augustus Heinze, which he obtained from the Windsor Trust company, will make a complete statement tomorrow, attempting to exonerate himself and lay the blame on "men higher up," who, he has intimated from time to time, used him as a tool.

A. D. F. Adams, the Boston broker, indicted in connection with another transaction which Persch manipulated, is expected to surrender himself tomorrow. Arrangements have been made for his release under $12,000 bail.

Developments today in the investigation of the Heinze copper stock loan included the giving of testimony by Richard S. Kaufman and Leonard J. Fields before the grand jury and the statement by L. J. Vorhaus, attorney for A. D. F. Adams of Boston, that Mr. Adams would be produced here either tomorrow or Friday and that it had been agreed that $12,000 bail would be furnished and accepted for him.

Kaufman, the note broker, had previously told Assistant District Attorney Nott that he asked John A. Young, president of the Windsor Trust company, to allow that company to act as an agent in making the fifty-thousand-dollar loan to Persch on the copper stock. Kaufman said Mr. Young consented.
